

GLOBAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Wherever your business is taking you, we can help you get there.

In today's global economy organizations must be prepared to extend their operations internationally to remain competitive. With these new opportunities come new challenges, but wherever and whenever obstacles arise, we're ready to help you overcome them.

Global Reach: At Cretcher Heartland, we emphasize Heartland roots with global reach. Our worldwide network encompasses experienced brokers in 130 countries ready to serve your insurance and risk management needs virtually anywhere in the world. Network affiliation gives us access to international markets and exposure analysis based on global and local risk perspectives. Each one of our trusted, experienced network brokers is prepared to offer all the service and dependability that you're accustomed to as a Cretcher Heartland client.

Benefits: We can save you time and worry by having services already in place where you need them. To ensure that you receive the right results every time, our approach consists of three basic principles 1) identifying and evaluating your global exposures; 2) creating and delivering a Global Risk Management program specific to your needs; and 3) developing long-term relationships and programs to minimize your long-term cost of risk.

Process: Cretcher Heartland employs an 11-step process, from risk and benefit assessments, country profiles, and tools to ensure a smooth line of communication is provided to you, such as communication kits, procedures manual through ongoing management and maintenance of your international program.
